FREE CYBERBULLYING WORKSHOP

Cyberbullying is a relatively new form of bullying in which the bullying is done electronically by computer, cell phone, or similar device, through instant and text messaging, email, and internet postings, including photos and video.

It has been in the news a lot lately- frequently when the outcome was deadly. In fact, our New Jersey Legislature recently passed a bill which requires training for most public school employees on how to spot bullying and mandates that all districts form "school safety teams" to review complaints.

LEARN HOW TO KEEP OUR KIDS SAFE!

- For parents, coaches, teachers & individuals interested in youth.
- Cyberbullying is different from other forms of bullying than previously known by adults from our past.
- Come and learn how you can identify and help children and adolescents who are being cyberbullied.
